CITY MATTERS.

J. L. Kirk is back at the Arcade from a few days' visit to his home at Warren, O.

Mr. Wm. McGowan, the well known lively stable man of Dayton, spent yesterday in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Eichelberger, of Dayton, spent Sunday in the city with Mrs. E.'s parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton.

Stated conclude Friday evening next of Palestine Commandery No. 33, K. T., at which the Red Cross degree will be conferred in full form.

A telegram sent by S. A. Bowman from Palatka, received here yesterday, says he will remain until the body of Mr. Kerr is found, and then return home at once.

Capt. A. S. Bushnell has returned from his New Orleans trip, bricker and more smiling and affable than ever. He thinks he learned something through visiting the great exposition, which is now seen at its best.

The Salvation Army is going to tackle Springfield. One of the authorities in that organization is now in the city, a guest of Mr. Peter King. As soon as a hall can be found and other arrangements made a company of soldiers will be sent over from Columbus to vaquish sin in Springfield.

Funeral services over the remains of Councilman John Kershner, whose death was announced yesterday, will be held at the residence, No. 266 East street, near Clifton, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Relatives from a distance are expected. Deceased was a member of the Second Lutheran Church, and the pastor, Rev. A. E. Wagner, will conduct the services.

A reunion of the members of the First Baptist church and congregation will be held in the church parlors tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon and evening. The church will be open at 3 o'clock, and during the remainder of the afternoon and evening every member of the congregation, as well as members of the church, are cordially urged to be present, as at a family gathering.

The following appears in this week's issue of the Weekly Law Bulletin: "Wm. M. Rockel, Esq., of the Springfield, Ohio, formerly known to our bar as a contributor to the Law Bulletin and Journal and to other law periodicals of the country, has prepared a work which will undoubtedly be of great assistance to law students and young lawyers in making them familiar with the questions and points of law decided by our Supreme Court, and reported in the Ohio Reports. We shall, beginning next week, commence with the publication of it serially, a page or two in each number of the Bulletin, as a 'Law Student's Department,' and hope thereby to add another valuable feature to the Law Bulletin and Journal."

Last evening the friends of Prof. Alex. V. Sykes in his immediate neighborhood to the number of fifty or more tendered him a surprise. The attack was made at 8 p. m. The Professor, as is well known, is going to remove at an early date to Western Kansas, and he and his estimable wife were found busily engaged packing their goods. Never was surprise more perfect. After a pleasant hour of social intercourse a bountiful repast of sandwiches and coffee, various kinds of cake and tropical fruits, brought by the guests, was spread. Then Professor Sykes favored his visitors with several pieces of music, and Mrs. Sykes and Mrs. Milton Cole sang several ballads. The remainder of the music was furnished by the young ladies of the company. It is fine to be regretted that Springfield is to lose so fine a musician, and so courteous a gentleman, as Mr. Sykes.

The Station-House.
The station-house received quite an addition to its regular list of boarders yesterday afternoon and last night. About 3 p. m. yesterday a detachment of five or six officers accompanied by a detachment of men were enjoying life along the railroad out past the East street stops. Five of the "tough feds" were captured, who gave their names as follows: Thomas Riley, James Ryan, Joseph Lewis, John Briser and Frank Leroy. Several of the pedestrians, when brought to the station-house, were recognized by Billy Woods as old friends.

Besides the above, George and Effie Williams were allowed the privilege of remaining in the station-house until the Mayor gets ready to decide whether they were drunk and disorderly last night.

Gannon's Stable at Urbana Burned.
The police here received a telephone message from Urbana late yesterday afternoon, stating that Mayor C. H. Weaver's large livery stable, occupied the Weaver house, was discovered on fire about 4:30 a. m. and was totally destroyed with contents, thirty-seven horses, some of them valuable animals owned by private parties, being burned to death, the rapid advance of the flames preventing their removal alive. Among the burned animals was one big bay belonging to Sheriff Wilkins, for which he had refused $200 but a day or two since. The adjoining buildings, owned by Mrs. Crooks and occupied as a barber shop, and that of Mrs. Stecker were considerably damaged. Nothing but the good work done by the Fire Department and the fact that the stable had a heavy tin roof prevented the disaster of eight years ago on the same spot. Mr. Gannon estimates his loss at $12,000 on which there is $5,000 insurance. Private parties lose $5,000 without any insurance. The cause of the conflagration is unknown, but there are indications it was of incendiary origin. Tuesday's Urbana Citizen in an account of the disaster says: "At 5 o'clock the Rev. Frank Mitchell was standing on a back roof and holding the nozzle end of a hose. He stood there face to face with fire and danger for an hour and worked as bravely and patiently as any fireman. Below in the back alley, at the same hour, was seen among other citizens the Rev. Edward McGuffey dragging the hose like a cart horse."

CITY COUNCIL.

Announcement Made of Death of John Kershner, of the Fourth Ward, and Adjournment in Respect to His Memory.
Council met in regular session Tuesday evening, March 24, President Johnson in the chair. Absent: Dugan, Korn and Mast. The minutes were read and signed. The President, Mr. Johnson, spoke as follows:

GENTLEMEN OF COUNCIL:—It becomes the painful duty of the chair to announce the death of our fellow-member, John Kershner, which took place at his residence, No. 266 East street, about noon today. He was a man of honesty and integrity of purpose, faithful in every duty placed in his charge. He was one whose loss will be permanently felt and who will be missed greatly from his place in our midst. In view of the death of our fellow-member what is the pleasure of Council?

Mr. Prince, of the Second ward, moved to dispense with the usual order of business of Council. Carried.

Mr. Prince presented the following series of resolutions, which were adopted by a separate vote on each:

Whereas, Announcement has been made to this body of the death of one of its members, Mr. John Kershner, Councilman from the Fourth ward of this city, therefore,

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to draft resolutions expressing our sense of sorrow at the sudden departure of the deceased.

Resolved, That this Council attend the funeral ceremonies in a body, and that the Committee on Resolutions make all necessary arrangements for such attendance and that the Council chamber be draped in mourning for the period of thirty days.

On motion of Mr. Prince Mr. Lesmer of the First ward was made chairman of the committee and the President appointed as the additional members Messrs. Prince and Driscoll. The matter of securing conveyances at the funeral for such members as desired them, at their own expense, was left to the same committee, the members of which desire that Councilmen will meet in a body at the Council chamber hall an hour previous to the time announced for holding funeral services. The chair of the deceased member has been draped in the emblems of mourning, following the formal announcement made last evening of his death.

Much Ado About Little.
For a few days past the neighbors of David Ropp, living on Clifton street, have been greatly agitated over his alleged inhuman treatment of his wife. Report had it that, under pretext of insanity, he kept his wife confined in a small cage in one corner of the kitchen, where she had been almost frozen during the late cold weather, and had been otherwise subjected to maltreatment at his hands. The reports came to the ears of the police authorities and they proceeded to investigate. Yesterday afternoon several officers went to Ropp's house and they found that, while rumors had greatly exaggerated matters, there was yet considerable foundation for talk.

The truth of the matter is that Ropp's wife is insane, and at different times has been at Dayton and in the insane ward at the County Infirmary. She was returned from the latter place some two weeks since. Ropp, who doubtless thinks as much of his right arm as he does of a dollar, resolved to economize by keeping his wife at home. He accordingly built a little pen of pine boards in a sort of adjoining his kitchen and confined his lawful spouse therein, while he and his housekeeper managed the house to suit themselves. The pen contained a bed and a few other articles of furniture, and Ropp probably sees no reason why his wife should not enjoy her incarceration. The woman, when spoken to yesterday, answered all questions lucidly. When asked whether she had been badly treated, she said no, but that she had been a little cold in her pen, some times during the morning, and his wife corroborated this claim. In short, it appears that outside of her incarceration and the inconveniences resulting directly therefrom, the woman experienced no ill treatment, and that this is due more to Ropp's desire to save the cost of keeping her at an asylum, than to any deliberate intention of abusing her.

Yellow Springs.
Rev. S. S. Newhouse, of Jamestown, was in town last week.

Andrew Bates, of Irwin, rejoiced his friends here by his presence among them last week.

Miss Mattie Mellinger, of Springfield, has so far recovered from her recent illness as to assure her return to college next term.

Allan Jaquith, who spends his winters here and summers in Colorado and New Mexico, has again turned his face toward the setting sun.

The close of the term at the college is attended with the usual exodus of students. Nearly all will return at the beginning of the spring term.

A rain-gauge station of the Ohio Meteorological Bureau has been established here. Will King is observer, and with measuring rod in hand anxiously waits for rain.

Miss Maud Moffat, daughter of Bruce Moffat, of Springfield, has been in town for several days, making arrangements to enter school next term and getting acquainted.

President Long lately received notice of his election to membership of the Council of Twenty-five of the American Congress of Churches. The next meeting will be held in May at New Haven, Conn.

On the occasion of the eclipse, the professor of astronomy and his class of embryonic Newtons and Herschels gathered around the business end of the telescope, but old Sel refused to show his face for any length of time, and after a good deal of fruitless squinting they dispersed in disgust.

W. S. Hendrixson has just received a standard thermometer from the chief signal office at Washington, and is now prepared to demolish any man with a little tin thermometer who hereafter attempts to startle the community with fairy reports of extreme temperatures.

Some imaginative correspondents have said without qualification, that Dr. Duncan had his leg broken in two places and that he crawled from where he fell, near the college, to his own gate, nearly half a mile away. The accident is serious enough, but in fact, only the small bone or fibula was broken. The injury was doing well at last accounts.

BRIGHTON.
The Brighton amateur society will give an entertainment at Brighton on the evenings of April 2 and 3. They will produce an entirely new and original temperance drama, entitled "The Turn of the Tide, or Wrecked in Port," also a military drama, entitled "Old Hal Courtes Courtier."

Wonderful.

From the Pittsburgh Dispatch, Sept. 26th, 1880.
Very seldom do we read of an actual case of recovery, where hope had altogether been lost, to parallel that which was Monday investigated by a Dispatch reporter, who had heard in various quarters persons talking to their friends of a cure, seemingly little short of marvellous, that had been performed. The plain facts in the case referred to, without exaggeration, are these, as they were learned from the mother of the young man, his pastor and other persons well known in the community:

"William Lincoln Curtis is the name of the young man in question. He is now employed at H. K. Porter & Co's locomotive works in Pittsburgh. Two years ago he was residing with his mother on Grant street. About that time he went to bed one evening with a violent pain in his shoulder, the result, he thought, of a cold. The next morning the shoulder was greatly swollen, the pain was intense, and aches were felt all through his system. His case was speedily developed into a violent form of chronic rheumatism, among the first notable features of which was the paralysis of his left arm and hand.

"He gradually grew worse, and in a few months the elbow and knee joints and both ankles became enormously enlarged. In March last the cheek bones began to enlarge, and upon his left side particularly, spreading his face out of all resemblance to his former self. The pain in all his joints became intense; fever, with its deteriorating effects, was now added, and he became rapidly reduced to the semblance of a skeleton, while white teeth in his mouth, and his sufferings were of such an indescribable nature, that he could not move his limbs without groaning.

"The young man finally commenced taking what wonderful medicine, Parvula. In two weeks quite a change for the better was perceptible. In six weeks all the enlargement had been reduced completely, while in eight weeks the patient was quite as well as he had ever been in his life. Nearly three weeks ago he resumed work as a machinist at the locomotive works, and is now doing as well as the facts, said: 'Indeed, I do not think the cure much less than a miracle. I do not hesitate in recommending it to all my friends.'"

The pastor of the church where the young man attended Sabbath school was visited, and he readily confirmed the facts of the deformed bones, the rheumatism, the paralysis of the arm and of the doctors having given him up. He was greatly surprised at his improved condition. Said he, "If he had not spoken, I would not have known him."

Ten years is long enough to keep any man in jail. If he has committed a crime which calls for greater punishment he should be hanged.—Denver Opinion.

It has been said that "a poor man cannot afford to be nowadays," and the rough and forcible expression contains a great deal of truth.—Burlington J., Hawkeye.

It is impossible for several races to live side by side, as they have done here for a century and a half, without affecting and modifying each others habits, customs, and ideas.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

We parents nowadays are in a bad fix. Standing between our children and our sons, the bigotry of the past and the liberalism of the present, now what are we going to do about it?—Affectionate Father in the Interior.

The scandal which would accompany the open trial of divorce suits would not be as bad as that arising from the rapid growth of divorces under the facilities allowed by the present law.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Our Socialistic friends are of the opinion that machinery is the great enemy of labor. But the world made a much more important discovery long before modern Socialism had its birth. It discovered that the great enemy of labor is laziness.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Changes in the laws are not always improvements. The Virginia laws in force when Kentucky became a State, and which were adopted for a while in the new State, provided penalties for all citizens failing to vote at elections. In this there was a recognition of a duty to the State.—Louisville Commercial.

During the Exposition in New Orleans, forty gambling houses, where banking games are run, keep open night and day. Gamblers have assembled there from all over the Union, and with the Louisiana lottery and other well known attractions, New Orleans is for the time being the wickedest city in the Union.—New Orleans Picayune.

The late S. S. Merrill, of Milwaukee, left an estate valued at $75,000. The will gives the widow the homestead on Grand avenue, Milwaukee, $100,000 in cash, and a liberal income besides. Two sisters and a brother of deceased will receive $500 annually, and his children are to have the income from the bulk of the estate.

The jury that brings in a verdict of guilty against a man accused of murder is not in any sense a party to his punishment. It is the law that hangs him or sends him to the penitentiary—the wisdom of ages, the necessity of society, the impersonal decree of a prudence taught by the experience of all past.—New Orleans Picayune.

It is observed that whenever the Arabs in the Sudan kill an Englishman, it is a "murder," or "massacre," but the hundreds of Arabs whom the English mow down are simply slain in battle. Why this distinction? And by the way, when did Great Britain declare war against the Sudanese?—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Selectmen of Middlebury, Ct., propose that hereafter tombstones shall be made valuable as public records. They have passed a resolution that every tombstone to be erected in the West Middlebury Cemetery shall contain, in addition to the name, age and date of death of the person to whom it refers, the name of the physician who was the cause of death, the name of the physician in attendance on the deceased, and a brief description of his treatment of the case.

Anthony Comstock is censured because he has attempted to suppress an edition of "The Thousand and One Nights," which have not been submitted to the expurgatorial process. He refuses to listen to the extenuating plea that the edition is very expensive, and intended only for literary people, who will not be contaminated. Mr. Comstock has successfully braved many perils, but the wrath of the bibliophile will be the severest test of his courage.—The Current.

The sons of some of the very rich men of New York are said to be living at a tremendously extravagant rate, and are likely to see the bottom of the fortunes acquired by economy and thrift. One gifted youth recently chartered a palace-car at $100 per day, and took a party of friends to New Orleans, this being but one item in the expenditure. Another is touring it around the world in a yacht. A third, who is "no end of a swell," cuts his father dead when they meet in Fifth avenue.

A death was caused near Cambridge, O., in this singular manner. William Galbreath and James Arnold were chopping trees, and each had a tree ready to fall at almost the same time. By some chance Arnold's tree fell first and in a contrary direction from what was expected. As it fell a limb struck Galbreath and knocked him from the ground just as his tree, shaken by the crash of the falling tree, toppled, splitting the trunk of the stump up. Galbreath's head struck in this split, and in the rebound it was crushed to a jelly.

Professor A. B. Palmer, in Wide Awake, for March, discussing the action of alcohol upon the lungs, declares there are no statistics or recorded observations and comparison of numbers of cases—which afford the slightest indication that the use of alcohol in any form or quantity prevents consumption.

It grows more and more difficult to find really unassailable excuses for liquor-drinking. The consumption-cure theory has had long service, and now that it has been annihilated it will be hard for the tapers to devise one as useful.

Edward C. Bruce, reviewing the New Orleans Exposition in Lippincott's, for March, says the free schools of the Southern States speak more in statistics than in more concrete forms of display, and the figures are highly satisfactory. School-buildings, year by year, are steadily increasing in number, and graded and normal schools are multiplying rapidly. The colored schools are supplying themselves with colored teachers, which, Mr. Bruce thinks, speaks better for the progress of the race than any other discoverable sign.

The Cincinnati Commercial says there are very few people who have an adequate idea of the splendor and beauty and historical interest of the "Grant relics" that have been made over to the Government. There are trophies from nearly all the considerable cities that the General visited on his way around the world. Take the little town of Stratford-upon-Avon. The "freedom" of the town was presented to Grant in a scroll of parchment, enclosed in a box of the Shakespeare mulberry tree—wood far more precious than gold—and exquisitely carved into leaves and berries of the tree.

The average lobster lives six years. Ergo, says the oysterman, the animal should be caught rather than die of old age and become a loss.

American oysters are now being transplanted into German waters.

The law of supply and demand is an important consideration in the economy of nature. The supply of Mithler's Herb Bitters during the past year alone has been simply enormous, and yet the demand keeps up at a constantly increasing rate. People have learned of its efficacy in kidney and liver complaints, dyspepsia and indigestion, cholera morosa, etc., and now they will not be without it. Whittigert & Co., druggists, of Chester, Mich., write, "We sold fifteen cases during the year."

Nicholas Schurmski was crushed to death by a mass of iron ore, weighing several tons, which fell from an elevator at the Thompson steel works, Braddock, Pa.

Henry England, of Brownstown, Ind., was arrested, charged with perjury for swearing that a young girl, who was anxious to wed a friend of his, was of lawful age.

LOCAL NOTICES.
"Bandaid Used Medicinally."
This is one of the latest ideas in medicine. But whatever you do with your bandaid, don't take it internally. Bathe your head with it, scratch your back with it, or make a sticking-plaster of it—only don't swallow it. The great medicine for debility, weakness, dyspepsia, rheumatism, liver troubles in Brainerd's Iron Bitters. Mr. John Jenkins, of 138 Jefferson street, Baltimore, says, "Malaria left me very weak. Brown's Iron Bitters gave me health and strength."

Have you a cough? Sleepless nights need no longer trouble you. The use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, after retiring, will soothe the cough to quiet, allay the inflammation, and allow the needed repose. It will, moreover, speedily heal the pulmonary organs, and give you health.

American's Pride.
True American men and women by reason of their strong constitution, beautiful forms, rich complexions and characteristic energy, are envied by all nations. It is the general use of Dr. Hartner's Iron Tonic, which brings about these results.

Henry Schoenhals, foreman Henry Krug Packing Co., St. Joseph, Mo., uses Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil with his men for sprains, rheumatism, colds, chapped hands, etc. It is the best.

Erysipelas and Salt Rheum was driven entirely away from Mrs. J. C. Anderson, Peshigo, Wis., by Burdock Blood Bitters. No equal as a blood purifier.

If you are suffering from a sense of extreme weariness, try one bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It will cost you but one dollar, and will do you incalculable good. It will do away with that tired feeling, and give you a new life and energy.

A Dangerous Surgical Operation.
A fatal mistake. At the time Dr. Vance, of Cleveland, performed the operation on the lady for the removal of a cancer of the stomach, he found when too late that the poor woman had no cancer to be removed. The disease was indigestion, and if she had taken the Shaker Extract of Roots (Sigsbee's Syrup) she would have been cured at the pit of the stomach, which made the doctors think she had cancer, would have been removed. Distress after eating, dull, heavy feeling in the head, with pains in the side and back, all vanish after using this wonderful remedy. The tired, languid feeling gives place to strength and vigor.

Mrs. Della Marsh writes from Pea Ridge, Benton Co., Ark., that she had Dyspepsia in the worst form for five years, and that nothing gave any relief until she used the Sigsbee's Syrup. She says that two bottles cured her. The Shaker Tea Cakes are good for Coughs.

He Thanks His Paper.
Mr. Editor:—I was induced by reading your good paper to try Dr. Hartner's Iron Tonic for debility, liver disorder, and acrota, and three bottles have cured me. Accept my thanks. Joe C. Boggs—Ex.

CURES FOR PILES.
Piles are frequently prevented by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture, like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Bilious, bleeding, and itching piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bonanza's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Sold by Ad. Bkhaus & Co.

For Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Cramp and Colic, there is no remedy superior to the genuine Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil.

Young Men—Read This.
The Voltaic Belt Co., of Marshall, Mich., offer to send their celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belt and other Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days, to men (young or old) afflicted with nervous debility, loss of vitality and manhood, and all kindred troubles. Also for rheumatism, neuralgia, paralysis, and many other diseases. Complete restoration to health, vigor and manhood guaranteed. No risk is incurred as thirty days trial is allowed. Write them at once for illustrated pamphlet free.
